WHY KOMPAS?

Dear Independent Traveler:

The 'Putnik Transport Agency' was started in 1951 to create wholesome travel experiences in erstwhile Yugoslavia. Kompas, the successor to Putnik is now one of the largest travel companies in Eastern and Central Europe.

We are absolutely delighted that you've chosen Kompas as your travel companion. And we are grateful and excited to embark on this amazing journey with you. All of our associates, drivers and guides are passionate local professionals.

We created this kaleidoscope of Independent Journeys with your wanderlust in mind. We packed all the essentials, such as private transfers, rail tickets, car rentals, hotel reservations and sightseeing tours. You can easily load up by upgrading, customizing and adding unique experiences. Most itineraries start in a major city, and, seven days later, finish in another. A few journeys are seasonal but most run year-round and depart daily. For longer vacations, you can extend your Independent Journey by adding on a Kompas escorted tour, or a Kompas Adriatic cruise. Doing so will afford you a discount of 10%.

Because travel plans change, Kompas has simple and generous cancellation and refund policies.

Thank you for letting us guide your travels.

An aerial photograph of a city skyline, likely Warsaw, Poland. The image features a mix of modern and classical architecture. On the left, a prominent, uniquely shaped modern skyscraper with a faceted facade stands out. To its right, several other modern high-rise buildings are visible. Dominating the right side of the image is the Palace of Culture and Science, a massive classical building with a tall, ornate clock tower topped by a spire. In the foreground, there are green spaces with trees and a large, classical-style building with a portico. The sky is a pale, hazy blue, suggesting a clear day.
